She had lived with cancer for three years. Born in Austin, Texas, Fran moved as a young child to West Newton, MA. After graduating from West Newton High School in 1967, she attended Duke University where she met her husband, Don Poe, with whom she had her two children. Fran was thrilled being a mom and her relationship with her children was a constant source of joy and satisfaction. In midlife, she met and found a soul mate in Paul Redstone. Together the adventurous couple traveled from Togo to Turkey to Dominica to Guatemala. They loved, cooked, read to each other, shared their lives, and built a home filled with love and joy that welcomed their children as well as extended family and friends. Shortly after she and her family moved to Amherst in 1979, Fran began working at University of Massachusetts (UMass). She was director of the Employee Assistance Program serving the faculty and staff of UMass, Hampshire College, and Amherst College. She was committed to social justice and cared deeply about making the world a better place. She was a wonderful friend who was always ready to listen, give a hug, share a meal, or take a swim across Puffer's Pond. Fran had a wide range of interests. She was a runner, biker, hiker, and softball player, but especially loved being in the water, swimming, kayaking, and canoeing. As a gardener she filled the house with flowers from her cutting garden, arranging them with flair. She sang with several local choral groups, most recently with Justina Golden's Wild Women of Wednesday Singing Group. Inspired by her daughter, she began to explore her own creative writing by joining a local writing group. After she was diagnosed with cancer, she found strength and support in the writing group sponsored by Cancer Connection and led by Pam Roberts. >>>OBIT>>> 01/08/2012 WELCH, David

David T. Welch of Wayland, 63, passed peacefully at Massachusetts General Hospital Sunday, January 8, 2012, with his life partner Margo Melnicove, brother Ken Welch of Mattapoisett, and friend Carl Corey of West Roxbury at his bedside. For four years, David fought a heroic battle against prostate cancer the same way he lived his life: fearlessly, and with determination and unflagging optimism. Whatever the task, David did it with gusto whether pulling a 2-lb. largemouth from Dudley Pond or a 127-lb. halibut from Kachemak Bay; playing starting lineman as a freshman at Colorado State or learning to curl at Broomstones just a few years ago; walking around his Cochituate neighborhood or atop the Great Wall of China; savoring a full course dinner or a burger off his grill. David loved singing to Margo, laughing, learning, sharing a meal with family and friends, driving his truck, holding an infant, skating with godson Michael J. Yan, clearing snow for his neighbors, mowing the lawn, watching a Red-tail soar, the Pats when they're winning, the colors of roses, Mark Twain, Tina Turner and big blubbering dogs. David also loved his work. He was the proud proprietor of D.T. Welch Carpentry for 25 years, never needing to advertise because his customers spread word of his eye for beauty and detail, versatility, skill, intelligence and integrity. Born October 7, 1948, in Brookline, David was the devoted son of the late Donald and Jane (Carroll) Welch; dear nephew of Carolyn (Carroll) Titcomb, Robert Welch, and the late Alice Margaret (Welch) MacMillan; much acclaimed cousin of Billy, Tim, Josh, Big Pete, Little Pete and Julie Titcomb, Robert and Katherine Welch, and Ron, Thom and Susan MacMillan; and admired son-in-law of Harold and the late Rhona Melnicove. David could talk with anyone about almost anything. By all accounts, he was a great guy. A celebration of David's life will be held this summer near his favorite Buzzards Bay fishing spot.

>>>OBIT>>> 03/30/2018 (CINCOTTA) CROOKS, Christine

Christine Ann Crooks was born February 20, 1949 in Waltham, Massachusetts to parents Anthony and Elizabeth (Russo) Cincotta. Chris left her earthly body on March 30, 2018 to join her Heavenly Father for eternity.

Christine Ann Cincotta Crooks spent her early years in Newton Massachusetts and completed her education with an Associate Degree from Massachusetts Bay Community College in 1969. It was in college that she met her future husband, John Crooks. They married in 1971 and spent 47 years together raising two children and being blessed with five grandchildren in this world; Connor, Katelyn, Kamryn, Cora, and Halle and one, Mia Gabrielle who Christine holds now in eternal glory.

John's career took them to Columbus Ohio, back to Boston, to Herndon Virginia, and eventually to Plano Texas in 1993. Their 25 years in Texas were especially fulfilling, where their children completed grade school and high school in Plano, and both graduated from SMU. Christine spent her last 14 years working as a Listing Coordinator for the Jan Richey Team, associated with Keller Williams Realty. Chris' outgoing personality, strong work ethic, and obsessive attention to detail established her as an invaluable resource. Her infectious smile, language mastery, and willingness to work tirelessly through any issue or challenge were inestimable.

Her greatest joy was attending to her children and grandchildren. She felt blessed to have her whole immediate family live within a five mile radius. It was a great source of satisfaction and pride that she was able to influence, mentor, and support her family in such close proximity. She was legendary for her love of cooking and entertaining. Most holidays and nearly every Sunday reflected her art of preparing classic Italian dishes and distinctive gourmet meals. In true Italian tradition, she was happiest when her whole family was together around her dinner table.

She applied the same mastery in entertaining her many close friends. She loved to entertain and would spend hours preparing meals for her many dinner parties. She created an atmosphere of happiness, warmth and love that was infectious from the time you entered her home to the time you left. It was her passion. Her faith in Jesus Christ her Savior was vibrant and strong. She took tremendous pleasure in worshipping Him at St. Andrew United Methodist Church in Plano.

>>>OBIT>>> 10/31/2019 (MALONE) POPIENIUK, Molly

Lunenburg - Lunenburg-Molly Margaret Malone-Popieniuck, age 71, passed away peacefully in her sleep surrounded by her family on October 31, 2019 at the Apple Valley Center in Ayer, MA. Molly was the loving wife of Peter E. Popieniuck and shared a home with him for the last 25 years in Lunenburg, MA.

Molly was a multi-talented individual with an exceptionally varied range of interests, hobbies, and passions. She was adept as an artist and practiced pen and ink illustration, water color and mixed-media painting, heraldry, and photography. Another of her passions was that of helping the elderly. She was a strong advocate for their well being and worked in nursing homes, hospice centers, and as a visiting home health aide. Her resume of other jobs could fill several dozen notebook pages. Like her famous Irish namesake, feisty Molly wasn't afraid to take on any challenge and give it a good try.

Molly loved to travel and she and her husband visited destinations across the United States as well as in Europe, the Caribbean, the Canary Islands, and Africa. Molly was a devout Catholic and a member of Our Lady of the Lake Catholic Church in Leominster, MA.

Perhaps Molly's most endearing quality was her ability to make, keep, and cherish her friends. Absolutely everyone praised Molly for her kindness, generosity, and sweet personality. She was the type of friend who always put others' needs above her own. Molly made friends easily wherever she went. A very special place in heaven is now occupied by Molly.

Molly was equally devoted to her family and her extended family. She was the daughter of Paul David Malone and Katherine Jane Mitchell of Sikeston, MO. Aside from her husband Peter, she leaves behind her brother, Patrick Mitchell Malone and his wife, Marilyn Van Buskirk Malone of Barrington, RI; a son, Robert Mitchell Atwood and his wife, Suzanne Viegas-Atwood of Shrewsbury, MA; a son, Jason Clark Atwood and his wife, Susan Elizabeth Atwood of Hopedale, MA; and grandchildren, Nick Atwood, Brody Atwood, and Emily Atwood; as well as numerous other relatives. Molly was predeceased by an infant daughter, Melissa Atwood.

Peter's family regarded Molly as one of their own. These include Peter's brother Anthony Alexander Popieniuck and his wife, Lynne Michaud of Bryant Pond, ME; sister Iris Linda Belmore and her husband William Belmore Jr., of Maynard, MA; and sister Elizabeth Amy Moore and her husband, Wendell Moore of Groton, MA; and Peter's children, Jason Michael Popieniuck and his wife, Shelly Greenblatt of Venice CA; Alexander Peter Popieniuck of Townsend, MA; Matthew Benjamin Popieniuck of Acton, MA, and Lara Elizabeth White and her husband Michael White of Lunenburg, MA; and grandchildren Arilyn White, Vivienne White, and Harrison Popieniuck; as well as numerous other relatives.

Linda was raised in Newton, Massachusetts graduating from Newton High School. She grew up in a devout Catholic home with God always in her presence. She lost her mother as a teenager, which made the bond with her father even stronger. Growing up, she worked at the family dry cleaning business with her father. When her father, John, remarried a few years later, she moved to Camden, Maine and became one of the first female police officers in Camden.

In 1974, she met Lawrence Sawyer at a barbecue and a few weeks later, they were married. They settled in Hudson, New Hampshire. Linda worked at Nashua Memorial Hospital. Larry and Linda had their only child, Michael, in 1976 after a difficult pregnancy.

That same year, Linda's father moved to Florida for warmer weather. After John's second wife passed, Linda and Larry moved to Spring Hill to be close to him. Linda was able to spend time with her father and the family started to go on a cruise over Thanksgiving each year.

Linda worked at the City of Brooksville, Hernando High School and Deltona Elementary before retiring. She also volunteered as an auxiliary deputy for the Hernando County Sheriffs Office.

Linda always had a sense of adventure and loved to travel learning of other cultures. Whether it was a ride on a wooden raft or riding around some foreign place in a cab, she was always ready for fun. Linda and Larry would take many cruises over the years from Alaska to a trans-Atlantic European cruise. They were able to share adventures together.

In 2005, Linda became a grandmother to Ariana. She loved spending time with her and would teach her very valuable things over the years. Linda taught her little lessons and showed her the difference between Diamonds and other jewelry which underlined later to responsibility and taking care of possessions. They shared many laughs and loved seeing different places together. Linda and Larry took her to church with them and the different events they had. The one Ariana and Linda looked forward to the most was the tea party the church hosted once a year. It was an event where all of the women got together for a good cause. Linda would always refer to Ariana as "my buddy."

Over the years Linda made many friendships that continued to the end. The group would do cruises together and lunches on Fridays making memories that last forever.
